Commission Agrees To Pave Poorly Kept Moates Road In Enterprise

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, September 14, at the courthouse in Elba, but barely had a quorum due to the absence of commissioners. Billy Egerton and Gilmer Grant. Present was commission chairman James L. Sawyer and commission members Charlie Mack Martin, Martin Bowden, Eugene Bradley and Rex Boutwell.

STEVEN MILBURN INFORMS COMMISSIONERS ABOUT LIGNITE BEDS

Stokes Gets Three Years Probation

Charles David Stokes pled guilty last week in Coffee County Circuit Court to a first degree assault charge and was granted three years probation by Judge Terry Butts.

Stokes was charged in the shooting of 18-year-old Rocky Strickland during the pre-dawn hours on May 31. Strickland was shot once in the neck with a .38 caliber pistol during an altercation with Stokes. The incident occurred in the parking lot of the Big Bear.

In other cases which appeared on the criminal docket last week, Joe Mack Tyson pled guilty to one count of burglary, third degree; one count of robbery, second degree; one count of robbery, third degree; possession of a pistol after being convicted of a crime; three counts of forgery, first degree. He received 10 years imprisonment on six of the counts to run concurrently and five years on the pistol possession charge for a total of 15 years in prison. Gordie Houston also pled guilty to first degree robbery and first degree burglary. Judge Butts sentenced him to five years on each count to run concurrently.

The meeting was moved to the upstairs courtroom due to a large delegation from the Moates Road area that showed up to complain about paving plans in the county. Bob Hawk was the spokesman for the delegation and he stated 65 families lived on the road and it had a great deal of traffic from both residents and people going around Enterprise, and that it was also a bus route and mail route. "The road was worked up four years ago for paving," added Hawk, "but minimal maintenance has resulted in it's now being in poor condition. We want you to pave the road as you promised."

Judge Sawyer told the gathering that no steps have been taken as of yet, but admitted the county did have $80,000 in Federal funds to do paving.

Commissioner Martin stated, "Since February we have had no funds for paving. At this time we have applied for money, and with our matching share, it will total $96,000. In my opinion, if we get the money, this road should receive top priority."

Commissioner Bowden made a motion the county borrow the money needed to pave the entire Moates Road (including a stretch inside the Enterprise city limits), and a spur leading into Bonita Estates. The total cost was estimated at $300,000, with the county to borrow at least $200,000. Eugene Bradley seconded the motion, and Commissioner Boutwell then spoke against it saying, "Any Federal money can't be used inside the city limits. I can't see paving one mile of road when we have machinery down, and we can't keep up 300 miles of roadway now. I just can't see borrowing the money. It would be a disservice to the citizens of Coffee County."

Bowden and Bradley voted in favor of the motion, Boutwell and Martin voted against it and Sawyer broke the tie by voting for the motion.

Three members of the sheriff's department addressed the commission and asked when they would receive overtime pay. "Surrounding counties have had many thousands of hours in overtime turned in," said Deputy Jim Henderson, "but we have had very little overtime. I would like to ask 'when are we going to get paid for overtime work in July and August?' We have filled out all the forms and had them notarized."

The commission told the deputies the only holdup had been the notarization, and stated the claims would be paid immediately. County Attorney Warren Rowe reminded the commission it was up to the deputies whether they wanted overtime pay or compensatory leave time.

Wilmer Bowers presented the commission with a petition signed by 30 residents objecting to the placing of the new county jail behind the Enterprise courthouse. Bowers stated it was not good planning to build a jail in a residential area, and added that in addition to being a safety risk, it would also cause traffic problems. Putting it simply, Bowers declared, "We don't want to live with a jail out our back door." The commission took no action on the petition.

County Attorney Warren Rowe passed around a copy of a letter he had sent to Circuit Judge Arthur Gamble answering a contempt of court charge and said he would subpoena both Representative Jimmy Holley and Senator Wallace Miller to appear at a hearing on September 23 to tell the judge why they will not give the commission the authority to pass a 1-cent sales tax to finance the construction of the jail without a vote of the people.

According to Rowe, the legislators can introduce such a bill, but have refused to do so. Before leaving Monday's meeting, Rowe also reported Judge Jack Wallace had stated a hearing on a suit filed by the architectural firm of Donofrio and Associates of Dothan would be heard in Clayton. Rowe stated he would object to the site and ask that it be moved to Enterprise. The suit is for $150,000 or six percent of construction costs for building a new jail in Coffee County. Donofrio contends he had a contract to design such a facility and that it was broken by the commission.

Steven W. Milburn, Director of Public Affairs for the Phillips Coal Company, met with the commission during the afternoon session and told them his firm was in the early stages of trying to determine if lignite exists in South Alabama is economically feasible to mine. He reported that Phillips had drilled over 7,000 shallow holes in South Alabama to determine the quality and amount of coal present, but insisted the drilling was only an investigatory procedure.

Milburn added there is not a market for Alabama lignite now and it must be determined if there will be a market for the fuel. He added it would be the

Elba Man Charged With Raping Child

James Senior Mickens, 36, was arrested Saturday night and charged with raping a six-year-old girl. Police said they responded to a call from the local hospital where the child was taken for treatment following the alleged incident.

The child remains hospitalized and in stable condition. Mickens was arrested shortly after the incident was reported and placed in Coffee County jail. He lives on Route 4, Elba.

mid-to-late 1980's before anything else can happen in the area, emphasizing it is a long term investment. A typical mine would require a $100 million initial investment and several more million over the life of the mine. Approximately 400 jobs would be created by the mine when in operation.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission: heard several insurance agents make proposals to provide health insurance for county employees; voiced support of a state project to add two lanes to the bypass in Enterprise, making it a four-lane road; voted to repair a motor grader at an estimated cost of $3,000; heard Dale Ellis complain of a road problem on County Road 13 where previous roadwork resulted in a fence being torn down and damage to his pasture; and paid bills and adjourned until Monday, September 28.

Auto Owners Urged To Buy Tags Before Penalty Charged

In the past, Alabama tag buyers were accustomed to long, tiring lines each fall and then paying a small penalty if they failed to stand in those lines before the November deadline. However, when the new staggered tag system went into effect last January, the long lines disappeared, but the penalty for late buyers jumped considerably.

Under the old system, a penalty of 15 percent of the tag cost ($1.95 for a $13 tag) was assessed for late buyers. Many people considered it worth the extra fee not to have to wait in line. Now state law requires a $2 mandatory penalty be charged for all tags bought during the first 10 calendar days following their assigned tag buying month. For example, a person whose last name begins with the letter "M" is scheduled to buy automobile tags during the month of June. According to the tag receipt, his tag expires the last day of May, but he has the entire month of June to purchase a new one. If he fails to do so, during the first 10 days of July he can purchase a new tag and be penalized only $2. After that time, the penalty rises to $15 for the following 20 calendar days, and up to $25 after 30 days. This penalty must be paid at the time of purchase, in addition to the cost of the tag and taxes.

According to Coffee County Probate Judge James Sawyer, there has not been a large problem with delinquent tag buyers, but there seems to be a lot of confusion about the penalties. Sawyer added that the county officials have no choice about charging a late penalty since it is mandatory under state law.

"A lot of people think it is us charging the penalty and it's not. It's a new system and as with all new changes, it's going to take a little time getting use to," noted Neil Harvison, chief clerk in the Elba division of the probate office.

In addition to the increased late penalty, Mrs. Harvison said tag buyers should also be aware of these state regulations: A person transferring a current license plate has 10 days to do so before a $15.00 penalty is assessed. Revised state law required that a person applying for a title on a 1975 and newer vehicle present the old ownership title, a bill of sale, and the latest tag receipt. With vehicles older than 1975, only a bill of sale and tag receipt are required. When purchasing a new automobile, the owner has 10 days from the date of purchase to buy a tag. After then, an additional $15 will be assessed as a late charge.

Persons from out-of-state who are establishing residence in Alabama have 30 days to purchase a current tag before the $15 penalty goes into effect.

The staggered tag buying system applies only to cars, pick-up trucks, and motor homes not weighing more than 12,000 pounds. Diesel trucks, mobile home, commercial and fleet vehicle, and motorcycle owners are required to purchase their tags during October and November.

For car and truck owners, their tags should be purchased in January if their last names begin with the letters A-D; February-E; March-G-H; April-I-L; May-M; June-N; July-O-P; August-Q-R; September-S-T; October-U-V-W-X-Y-Z.

New Manager Named At TG&Y

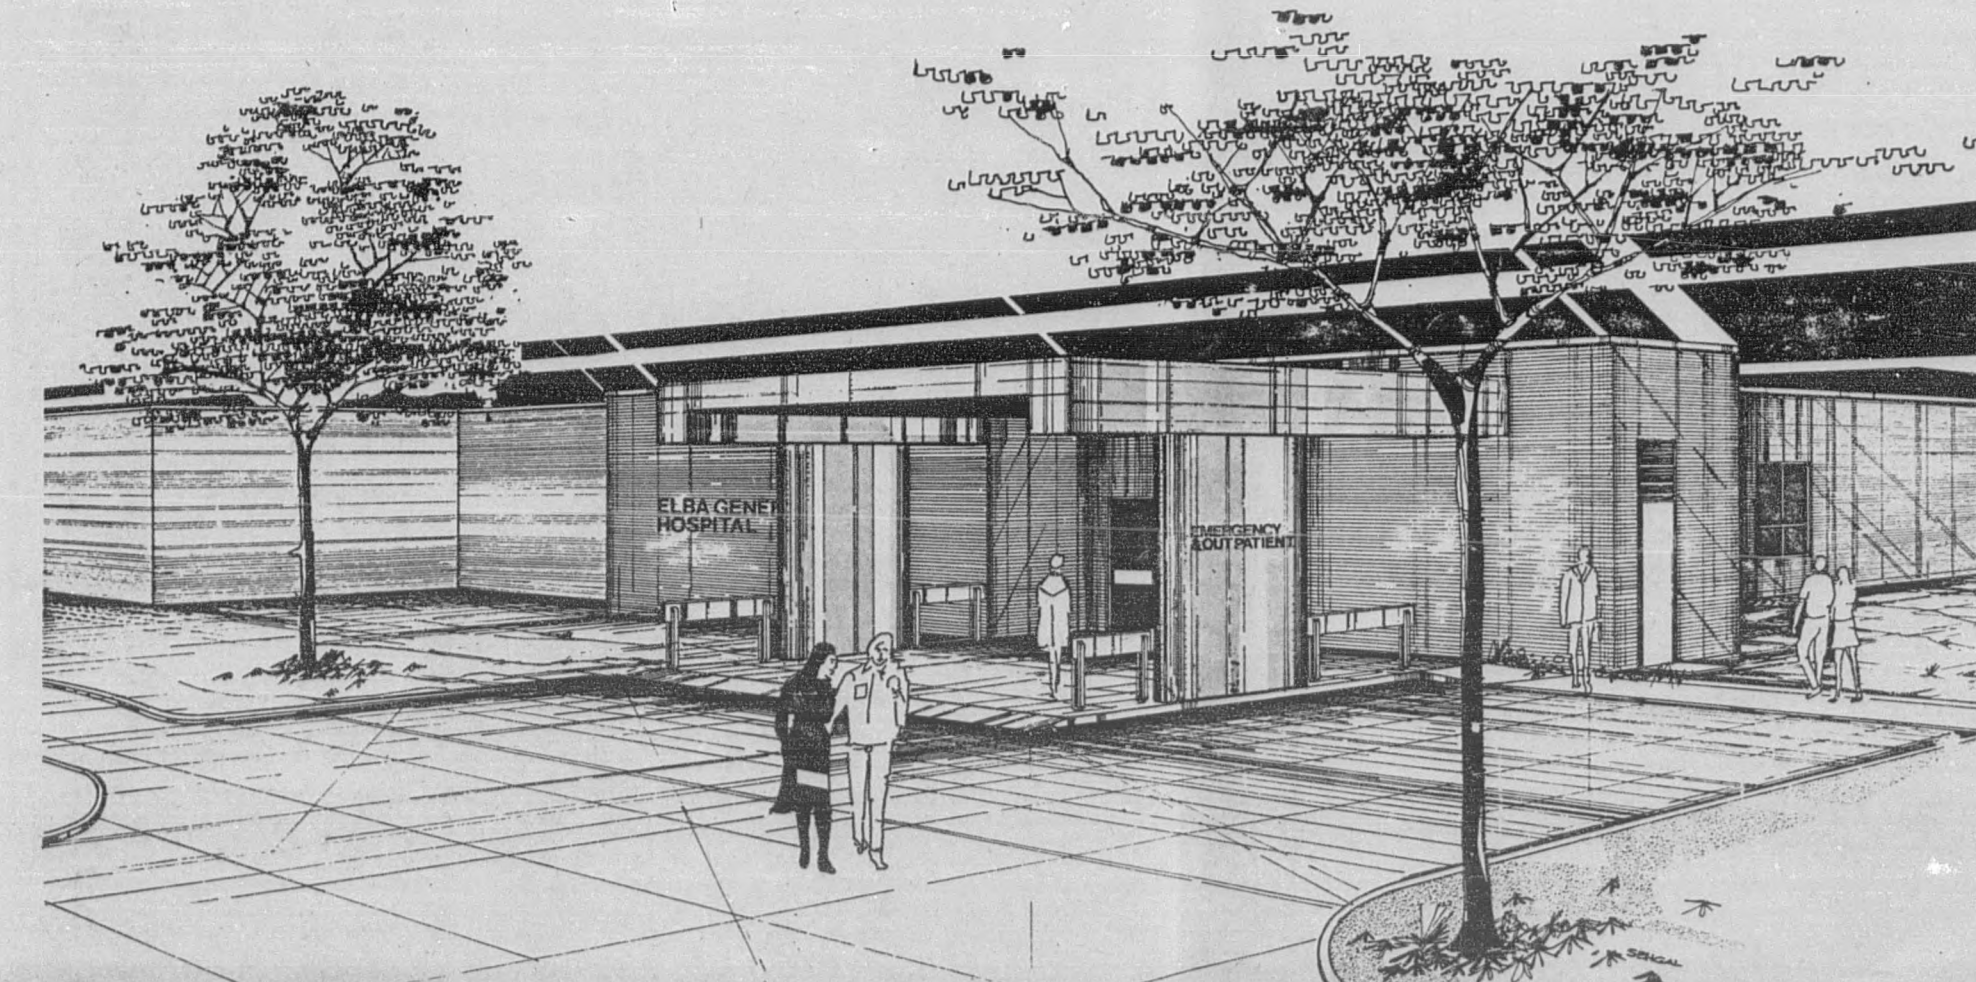

Dennis Crews, formerly of Pensacola, has been named manager of the Elba T.G. & Y., replacing Dick Jones who was promoted to a larger facility in DeFuniak Springs, Florida.

Crews, who is married to the former Pam Jones of Opp, was co-manager at a store in Pensacola before coming to Elba. A native of Ft. Walton Beach, Florida, he has worked in the Ft. Walton store, and in T.G. & Y. stores in Opp, Pensacola and Milton.

Before starting his career with the firm, Crews attended college at Okaloosa - Walton Jr. College and at Huntingdon College in Montgomery.

POOR ORIGINAL

Brainstorms

BY: FERRIN COX

Last week we voiced an opinion on the cause of Phil Ham's heart attack. Well, we haven't actually discussed this with Ham yet, but did get some information that strengthens our feelings. It seems they won't let the good vet watch TV yet, but he does somehow get the word on the end results of football games. After the Georgia Tech win over mighty Alabama Saturday, Phil smuggled out word to several friends that he wanted them to be sure and watch the replay of the game on the Bear Bryant Show to be sure that "the Bear" didn't pull some trick and be better on the replay Sunday than he was Saturday afternoon! Now we know that very few game results change on the replay on the next day, but apparently Phil wanted to enjoy seeing someone besides Auburn being upset on Saturday afternoon.

We hope there are not many jealous flower lovers around Elba, because it might cause Doc and Iva McCreary to stop bringing us those beautiful arrangements of roses we are occasionally blessed with at The Elba Clipper. We try to grow some flowers at our house, but mostly we fail and blame the long hours of work and "other commitments" for our failure. Therefore we especially appreciate these gifts. Doc refuses to listen to my political advice come election time. . . . just smiles, brings us some pretty flowers and votes his own convictions. . . . Then when his candidate wins, he just smiles and quietly lets us know that "he told us so."

Peanut picking is (or was) going at full speed this week until the Tuesday afternoon rains hit Coffee County. Now farmers must wait a couple of days before continuing the job. We are hearing some real good reports from the peanut patches, and County Agent Tom Casaday reports farmers will have some extra money this fall in contrast to the past couple of years.

Potential candidates for governor are beginning to thin out already. With the election still a year away, former Senator Sid McDonald has ended speculation that he would again be a candidate by announcing several days ago that he "is burned out with politics." This announcement is probably a relief to such folks as the lobbyists for AEA who strongly opposed McDonald's ideas on managing the state taxes, especially the Special Education Trust Fund.

Alabama football fans who need a boost to their spirits and don't have much love for Auburn need to stop in New Brockton at the Phillips 66 station and talk with Mr. Hayes. He will quickly show off his wall calendar that takes a cut at Auburn on every page! Each month of the year this calendar has a different insulting picture directed at the War Eagles. Needless to say, it was the brainchild of a man in Tuscaloosa.

Alabama deputy sheriffs are in line for additional pay as they work more than a normal week. Several county commissions have been shocked when they get requests for 70 and 80 hours of pay from almost every deputy. We believe in paying a person for the work they perform, but this new law is going to cost a lot of money or take some excellent business management on the part of all 67 sheriffs in Alabama. There is no way to conform emergencies to the normal working hours of law officers, but constant planning by the sheriff and full cooperation by the deputies can keep this extra pay to a minimum.

In spite of the gloomy attitude over high interest rates and the other bad news about the state of the world economy, records indicate there are fewer people unemployed than at the same time a year ago. The percentage didn't drop much, but it has dropped and that should be a good sign.

The economy has got to get better to keep Alabama folks from starving. We have many friends who declare they knew the location of every gopher hole in the Wiregrass during the Great Depression of '29. Now that the much-hunted gopher turtle has been put on the endangered list, and it is against the law to kill them, these folks who cooked up many pots of "gopher soup" must find something else to eat. . . . or go hungry!

Football fans in this area had little to brag about last weekend. With every high school team in the county losing (Enterprise didn't play), Alabama and Troy State losing, and the defending 3A champs at Troy high school losing, there just ain't much to crow about - unless we yell "wait 'til next week!"

Repairs Completed On Lighthouse

Repair of the Middle Bay Lighthouse near the center of Mobile Bay has been completed on the second anniversary of Hurricane Frederic's visit to that area. The historic lighthouse withstood the winds, but did sustain damages on that 13th day of September in 1979.

The $10,000 project, conducted by Bureau of Fisheries personnel of the Alabama Highway Department, included replacement of doors, windows, roofing and bracing, and was funded in part with a $1,464 grant from the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration.

The lighthouse was built in 1885; The frame one-and-a-half story hexagonal lighthouse was built in 1885 and stands some 16 feet above the water on metal pilings. It was slated for demolition in the 1960's when several area groups pushed for its preservation, and the structure was transferred to the Alabama Historical Commission.

This Middle Bay Light is one of three remaining light-houses along Alabama's coast. The tower of the extinguished, Sand Island Light stands in the Gulf three miles south of Ft. Morgan, while the Mobile Point Light is still in operation after 160 years of service adjacent to the fort.

The little building which is watched over by the Ft. Morgan staff has recently been riddled with bullets, and boaters in Mobile Bay are reminded that vandalism of this navigational aid is subject to a $2500 fine.

Anyone reporting the person who damaged the landmark will receive half the fine as a reward.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Experts recommend that you should drink at least eight glasses of water a day. For some people that can be a problem.

"Water, water everywhere/Nor any drop to drink," complained the Ancient Mariner, lost at sea in Coleridge's poem. Many Americans might have echoed his cry for modern technology that is cleaning up polluted water and making it safe to drink again.

Groundwater (actually, underground water) which some hundred million Americans drink, moves very slowly. It can take a human lifetime for groundwater to move a mile, and some chemical wastes dumped a generation or more ago are just now migrating into wells that supply drinking water.

Thousands of different organic chemicals have been identified as hazardous, or toxic--and may cause serious health problems when ingested over long periods of time in drinking water. For example, trichloroethylene (TCE), a widely used domestic and industrial chemical that is a suspected cancer-causing agent, may be dangerous to human health in as small an amount as 4.5 parts per billion in water, according to the Environmental Protection Agency.

Tests recently revealed that one of the three wells supplying water to Rockaway Township, New Jersey, had as much as 220 parts per billion of TCE. Another well had as much as .90 parts per billion.

Fortunately, the township was able to get a ready-made treatment system from Calgon Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, which uses granular activated carbon to remove TCE and other organic pollutants from water.

About a million gallons a day are cleaned this way in Rockaway and some 11,000 persons have fresh, clean water to drink again.

For a free booklet on the groundwater problem/carbon solution, write Calgon Corporation, Department G, P.O. Box 1346, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15230.

Brunson-Welsh wed in Mobile

MRS. PETER WELSH, JR.

The marriage of Miss Jeana Elizabeth Brunson and Peter Corbett Welsh, Jr., was solemnized on Saturday morning, Sept. 5, at eleven o'clock in the morning in historic Washington Square in Mobile. Music was provided by a chamber music ensemble, a Harpsichord, Viola, and Recorder. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Douglas Aldrich, associate minister of the First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fox Henry Brunson and the late Mr. Brunson.

of Mobile, formerly of Elba and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fox Henderson Brunson of Elba. The bride was escorted by her brother, Richard Henry Brunson, who gave her in marriage. She wore a bridal gown designed and made by her sister. The gown was of white cotton tulle with Valenciennes lace insertions and decorative tucks. Her bouquet and headpiece were of white miniature roses and baby's breath. The bride was attended by her sister, Deborah Lynn Brunson, who served as maid of honor.

Peter Corbett Welsh, Sr., of Camp Hill, Penn., served his son as best man. Groomsman and usher was David Rousseau Brunson, brother of the bride.

4-H's are Challenged

HARD AT IT
There are 23 4-H's in Coffee County who are hard at work with their 4-H Club calves. 4-H's like Brett Bryan, Candice Stokes, Bobby and David Gamber of Elba; Buddy Boyd and Lynn Watson of New Brockton; Jason and Brian McLeod of Route 2, Troy; and Dawn Smith of Jack are just a few of these 4-H's who are doing an excellent job. These members have their calves halter broken and are really working hard on feeding and grooming their steers. Dawn Smith, who exhibited the county grand champion last year, not only shows steers, but is going to show a heifer in this year's county 4-H heifer show. All of these 4-H's are involved in an excellent organization which will help them prepare for their futures.

SPECIAL CLUB
Members of the Coffee County 4-H Gold Key Fraternity, a 4-H Club for top-notch members, are submitting to their nominations for new members to the club. These nominees will be invited to a special meeting at which time they will be interviewed by a panel of fraternity members and leaders of the community. Then, if approved by this panel, they will be voted on by each fraternity member. If they are selected to be members of this 4-H fraternity, they must continue to be outstanding 4-H's as well as establishing an excellent reputation in their community. The club is open only to senior members, from 14 to 19 years old. Candy Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berry of Elba, serves as president of the club.

CHALLENGE
I challenge every 4-H member in Coffee County, both old and new, to think about the coming year. You must first select a group of officers who will be responsible for the activities of the club. Begin now to think about a president, vice president and secretary in whom you can place your trust. A 4-H officer is one who would call you up at 5 a.m. to remind you of a meeting or special activity. These officers

There are also a part of the 4-H Extension Council which formulates programs and activities for members in the county.

After officers are elected, every 4-H member must select a project for the coming year. Projects range from dairy foods to electricity to automotive driving.

Elizabeth Felmate of Enterprise is one of the many excellent volunteer leaders in this county. She leads the 4-H Horse Club. Kim Faison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Faison of Enterprise, serves as president. This club has activities ranging from trail riding to how to work a horse. The club meets once a month and there is no cost to the members. It meets Monday, September 14 at 7 p.m. in the kitchen of the county extension office in the Farm Center Complex at New Brockton.

Harvest Time Vision

I drove on a Missouri road with level terrain. As far as I could see, there were cotton fields with rows so straight and long. The cotton stalks had snow white cotton hanging heavily and was ready to be picked. This was harvest time. My wonder grew as the miles slipped by, how could this vast harvest ever be gathered?

As I looked around, I saw a multitude of people far away, as though they were preparing to pick cotton. These people were filled with laughter and singing and didn't seem to be worried about working. Sometimes people seem to put interest elsewhere, than what God would have them do for him. The Bible said, "The harvest is white but the laborers are few." I noticed these people were really v. dressed. This made me very conscious of my work clothes.

"Is it a holiday," I asked a gathered and would lay by a moment and then his face relaxed with a smile. "You're a stranger aren't you?" he asked. Before I could answer he replied, "This is Cotton Day."

He must have seen my puzzled expression, for he continued, "It is so good to turn aside from one's labors and pick cotton one day of the week." I asked him, "Don't you pick cotton other days?" "One may pick cotton at any time," he answered. "We should always be ready to pick cotton, but cotton day is the day we devote especially to cotton picking."

I left him and made my way further into the field. Most of the people were carrying a book, bound beautifully in leather, edged and lettered in gold. I have thought to read on the edge of one of them the words, "Cotton Pickers' Manual."

I noticed the people were gathering around rows of cotton in lines, and someone started to lead a song. The man next to me shared his songbook with me. It was called, "Songs of the Cotton Patch." I asked the man next to me when we were going to start picking. Some of the rows didn't have any one around them. I asked him about this. "There are too many of us to just pick certain rows," I said. "We don't pick cotton," he answered. "We haven't been called. That's the pastor cotton pickers' job. We are just here to support him. Besides, we haven't been to college. You need to know how cotton thinks before you can pick it successfully, cotton psychology, you know? Most of these folks here haven't been to manual school."

"Manual School?" I asked. "What's that?" "It's where they go to study the cotton pickers' manual," he answered. "It's very hard to understand. You need years of study before it makes sense." I asked, "I murmured, I had no idea that cotton picking was so difficult. The man next to me said, 'Isn't this wonderful?'" The man making the speech reached out and picked two handfuls of cotton and put them into his sack. The crowd praised him with a loud applause.

"Do we start picking cotton now?" I asked my informant. "No," he replied. "We are not qualified." I wasn't being critical I said, "I am sure this pastor must be a very good cotton picker, but surely the rest of us could try. After all, there is no such thing as that needs picking. We all have a pair of hands, and we could read the manual."

"Well, when you've been in the business as long as I have, you would know it's not that simple," he replied. "There isn't time for one thing. We have our own work to do, our families to care for, and our homes to look after. We can't be listening, light was beginning to break through to me. Whatever these people were, they were not cotton pickers. They weren't interested in the cotton harvest or 'Soul' harvest. Cotton picking was just a form of entertainment for the weekend."

I looked all around me and everywhere the ground was littered with fallen cotton. Much would never be gathered and would lay by a moment and then his face relaxed with a smile. "You're a stranger aren't you?" he asked. Before I could answer he replied, "This is Cotton Day."

He must have seen my puzzled expression, for he continued, "It is so good to turn aside from one's labors and pick cotton one day of the week." I asked him, "Don't you pick cotton other days?" "One may pick cotton at any time," he answered. "We should always be ready to pick cotton, but cotton day is the day we devote especially to cotton picking."

I left him and made my way further into the field. Most of the people were carrying a book, bound beautifully in leather, edged and lettered in gold. I have thought to read on the edge of one of them the words, "Cotton Pickers' Manual."

I noticed the people were gathering around rows of cotton in lines, and someone started to lead a song. The man next to me shared his songbook with me. It was called, "Songs of the Cotton Patch." I asked the man next to me when we were going to start picking. Some of the rows didn't have any one around them. I asked him about this. "There are too many of us to just pick certain rows," I said. "We don't pick cotton," he answered. "We haven't been called. That's the pastor cotton pickers' job. We are just here to support him. Besides, we haven't been to college. You need to know how cotton thinks before you can pick it successfully, cotton psychology, you know? Most of these folks here haven't been to manual school."

Honor Graduate Receives One Year Scholarship

An honor graduate of New Brockton High School, Paula Renee Driggers, received a $500 one-year tuition and books scholarship from the Woodmen of the World Insurance Society, according to B. A. Forrester, president of Enterprise State Junior College.

"We were pleased to have Mr. Sam Ellison, area manager of the Woodmen Society, on campus to present the award to this deserving young lady," Forrester said. The $500 award will cover the ESJC tuition of $100 per quarter and cost of books that averages approximately $70 per quarter.

Regulations Change Food Stamp Eligibility

New federal regulations will change the way food stamp eligibility is determined and how benefits are calculated, starting October 1. According to Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary Jarrett, the new rules will implement portions of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981 and are aimed at saving $1.3 billion in federal costs for the food stamp program in fiscal year 1982.

Today's regulations set a gross monthly income eligibility limit for all food stamp households except those with elderly or disabled members. Under the present law, eligibility is determined on the basis of a household's net monthly income, a figure derived by subtracting the $85 food stamp "standard deduction" from any other allowable child care, excess shelter, earned income, or medical deductions from the household's gross monthly income.

Starting October 1, eligibility will be calculated using a household's gross monthly income, before deductions. Under the new rules, households whose gross incomes exceed 130 percent of the official poverty line will be declared ineligible. This change is expected to save $244 million and will affect approximately four percent of the food stamp caseload, or 875,000 people. The new gross monthly income limit for a family of four is $916, or about $111,000 annually.

Other changes in food stamp eligibility requirements alter the definition of a food stamp "household" and ban benefits to boarders and strikers. Current program rules enable a household that meets the income and asset limits to get food stamps, even if the household's low income is the result of a family member on strike. Now, strikers' households that apply for stamps will be denied benefits unless they were eligible to receive food stamps before the strike began. These eligible households, however, will not be entitled to increased benefits.

The changes in eligibility rules are expected to save $355 million next year. Savings in the program are also expected with a new rule to prorate a household's first month's benefits. Existing regulations require a household joining the food stamp program to get a full month's allotment, regardless of the day of the month that it is declared ineligible. This change is expected to save $244 million and will affect

Veterans Urged to Take Advantage of Benefits

Time is running out for some 126,000 Alabama veterans who still have remaining eligibility for GI bill educational benefits, warned Montgomery Veterans Administration Regional Office Director James Conway.

He said that about one-fifth of Alabama's eligible veterans will lose their eligibility for benefits this year as the GI Bill enters its 37th year. The law provides a veteran to use the education benefits within 10 years following discharge from service, or by Dec. 31, 1989, whichever comes first.

From June 22, 1944, when the first measure was signed by President Roosevelt, through June 30, 1981, 18 million veterans have received assistance under the GI Bill, at a cost of $51 billion. About 35 percent of all trainees have been Vietnam veterans. This year the GI Bill will assist the

Records Broken By Oil Producers

Every 12 minutes, on average, somebody completes a producing oil or gas well somewhere in the United States.

It happened nearly 43,000 times last year, in 31 states and beneath U.S. coastal waters. And it is happening even more often in 1981.

Last year, the nation's 12,000 large and small producers set records for the number of drilling rigs at work and the number of wells completed. Figures just released, covering the first half of 1981, indicate that these records may be broken this year.

Permit Required Prior To Burning of Debris

Cooler weather reminds us that fall is coming. With it will come an increase in agricultural and debris burning.

In an effort to hinder the increasing number of wildfires across Alabama, the Legislature passed a law last year requiring residents of the state to obtain a permit prior to burning any new ground, grassland, or woodland. This also applies to burning open fields. These cost-free permits may be obtained from the District Office of the Alabama Forestry Commission by calling toll-free 1-800-922-7688.

Temporary Injunction

U.S. District Judge Robert Varner has refused to issue a temporary injunction to stop Gov. James from building temporary facilities to relieve overcrowding in the prisons. But the court has set a hearing for Sept. 30, and at that time will look more fully into the overall plan proposed by the governor to make room for more prisoners.

A contract has been awarded for construction of another prefabricated unit to house 500 inmates. The temporary housing is part of a comprehensive program aimed at keeping the federal judge from ordering more prisoners released.

Smokeless Tobacco Is Dangerous Too

People in Alabama are using snuff and chewing tobacco with increasing frequency, if trends across the nation apply. But at the same time, these users of smokeless tobacco are increasing their chances of getting cancer of the oral cavity, according to the Alabama Cancer Information Service.

A year ago the CIS was established by the American Cancer Society and the UAB Comprehensive Cancer Center to give up-to-date information to the people of the state. Since then more than 4,000 people across the state have called its toll-free number -- 1-800-292-6201 -- for confidential help.

"The incidence of oral cancer in users of smokeless tobacco increases possibly as much as four times over that of non-users," according to the Alabama CIS. "Recent studies show that women in the Southeast, where dipping of snuff has long been a practice, have an exceptionally high death rate from oral cancers."

"People think they are avoiding cancer by using snuff and chewing tobacco. They may be avoiding lung cancer and respiratory disease associated with smoking, but usually do not realize that they might contract oral cancers."

Dr. Mario G. Martinez, Jr., professor of dentistry and director of the division of oral pathology at UAB, is leading a five-year study into the incidence and causes of oral cancers in Alabama. Dr. Martinez said that the danger of cancer of the oral cavity is demonstrated by the fact that although only five percent of all cancers occur in the oral cavity, the mortality rate for oral cancers is 33 percent.

He said studies have shown that, in general, "oral cancer will kill you sooner than if you had cancer of the breast, colon or bladder."

Oral cancers could be detected early. For more information, including how to conduct oral self-examination, anyone may call the toll-free number.

Education of more than 800,000 Vietnam Era veterans.

More than 7.8 million World War II veterans were trained under the original measure, about one-half of all those eligible. Another 2.4 million, or 43.4 percent of those eligible, studied under the Korean plan, and nearly 7.8 million Vietnam Era and Post-Korean veterans have received training.

Some 65 percent of the Vietnam Era veterans eligible have received training, requires financial participation by service personnel, is available for those who entered the military after December 31, 1976.

Information on GI Bill eligibility should contact Montgomery VA Regional Office, 1000 N. 1st St., Montgomery, Ala. 36102. Toll-free line: 1-800-392-8054.

Most government and industry analysts interpret these trends -- along with other encouraging evidence -- as proof that the United States is turning the corner on energy and is moving along the road toward greater energy security. The analysts generally agree that these developments have been stimulated, at least in part, by the decontrol of domestic oil prices and by the higher prices now being permitted for some categories of natural gas.

The American Petroleum Institute, the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and others regularly compile exploration and drilling information. Their latest figures show these dramatic rises in drilling activities.

A total of 696 seismic crews at work during June 1981, an increase of 30 percent over the number active in June 1980. (Seismic work is one of the first steps in petroleum exploration.) More than 34,000 wells drilled and nearly 24,000 productive wells completed in the first half of 1981, a 28 percent gain over the same period in 1980.

An average of 3,659 drilling rigs operating during the first six months of 1981, a gain of 36 percent over the same six-month period in 1980.

Here are some other facts that document the energy progress this country is making:

Total U.S. energy production reached a record high in 1980, up almost 8 percent over the average for 1975-1977. Increases in coal and crude oil output helped to achieve that record.

Meanwhile, U.S. energy consumption in 1980 declined for the first time since the recession years of 1974-1975. The figure reported by the Department of Energy was down 3.5 percent from the all-time high of

Broiler Placements Increase

During the week of Sept. 5, broiler growers in Alabama placed 10,111,000 chicks, according to the Alabama Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This was an increase of 8 percent from the previous week and 10 percent above the corresponding week in 1980. Included in the placements were 262,000 chicks shipped out of state and shipped into Alabama. Of the 11,613,000 chicks hatched, 1,784,000 were either placed in other states, destroyed, or used for breeder replacements. The hatching rate for the state during this same week was approximately 83 percent.

The cumulative total placements for the marketing year beginning the last week in November were 443.4 million compared with 440.0 million during the same period last year. Commercial hatcheries in the state set 13,407,000 broiler-type eggs, down 5 percent from both the previous week and the comparable week a year ago.

Bears Claw Zion Chapel 27-0

BY: GREG BRUNSON

Rebel halfback Jeff Amlog (15) finds a hole in the Golden Bear defense and slips through for a good gain.

Zion Chapel's Eddie Arnold (33) leaps in an effort to punt in a game in the Rebels' 27-0 loss to Coffee Springs.

The Zion Chapel Rebels journeyed to Coffee Springs this past Thursday night to do battle with the Golden Bears and were soundly defeated 27-0. The Rebels played good defense throughout the game, but showed little sign of an offense as they gained only 60 yards during the night.

Coffee Springs took the opening kickoff, was unable to gain a first down and were forced to punt. The Rebels ran three plays and also had to punt. Obie Sconyers raced to the Rebel line and blocked Eddie Arnold's punt into the end zone. Arnold ran back and knocked the ball out of the end zone for a safety, and with 8:24 remaining in the first quarter, Coffee Springs led 2-0.

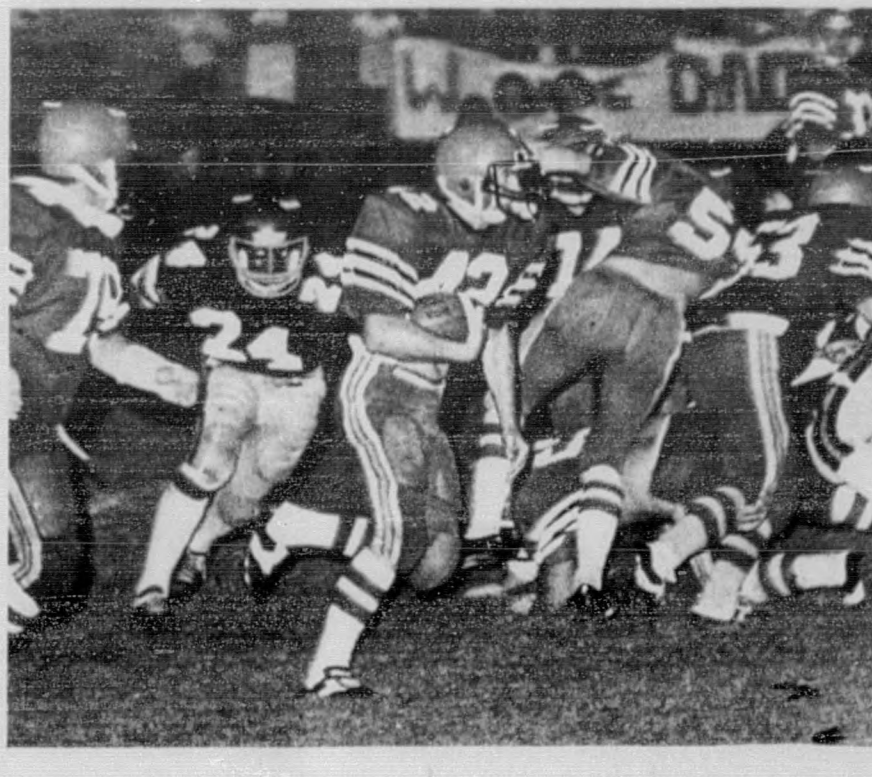

On their next possession, the Golden Bears drove down to the 10-yard line and attempted a 27-yard field goal which was no good. Zion Chapel tried two running plays that lost two yards which forced a passing situation. Greg Davis threw over the middle and had his pass intercepted by Mike Moore who rambled 32 yards into the end zone. Mark Storey blocked the p.a.t. and with 2:12 remaining in the first quarter, the Golden Bears led 8-0.

The Rebels took the kickoff and again ran three plays and punted, giving the ball to Coffee Springs at midfield. The Bears put together an 8-play drive which ended on the Rebels 20-yard line as the defense stiffened. Neither team could get a first down on their next possession, so the Rebels took over on their own 38-yard line. They were able to get two first downs before the half and were on the Coffee Springs 11-yard line when John Giley recovered a Greg Davis fumble to stop this drive.

The second half opened with Zion Chapel again running 3 plays and a punt. Byron Williams ran 25 yards on the punt return, giving the Golden Bears excellent field position at the Rebel 35. Seven plays later, Moore rolled out to the right and fired a 3-yard pass to Obie Sconyers who made a beautiful diving catch in the end zone. Moore's p.a.t. made the score 15-0 with 6:02 left to play in the third quarter.

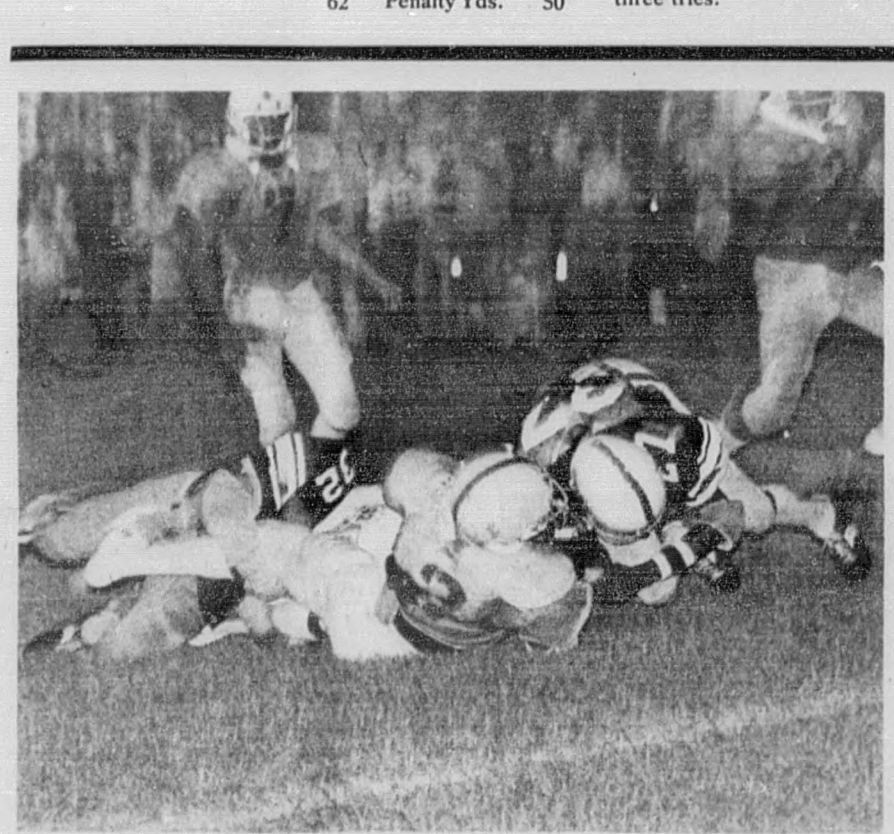

The Rebels had a pass interception and a punt on their next two possessions, while the Bears had a 9-play and an 11-play drive, with the last one ending on the Z.C. 18-yard line. Greg Davis dropped to pass on the next play and was popped from behind which caused another fumble. Marty Green grabbed up the ball and carried 7 yards into the end zone for the touchdown. Coffee Springs now had a commanding lead of 21-0 with 4:41 to go in the ball game.

The last points of the game were again scored by

Brantley Rally Falls Short, Bulldogs Fall

Story and Photos by: BILLY W. WILLIAMSON

The Dozier Tigers took advantage of Brantley's bobbles to grab an early 13-0 lead and then had to score in the final stanza to overcome a gallant Bulldog rally, as they posted a thrilling 27-20 win.

The win capped Dozier's record to 2-1 (2-0 in the Area), while the loss left Brantley with a 2-1 slate (1-1 in the Area).

Brantley won the opening toss and elected to receive, but held the ball for only one on a fumble at the 30-yard line. Dozier came out running, with the duo of Nate Everett and Eddie Brundidge swapping carries, and it was Brundidge who notched the score on a 2-yard scamper. Brundidge also added the extra point to give Dozier a 7-0 lead with 8:13 left in the opening stanza.

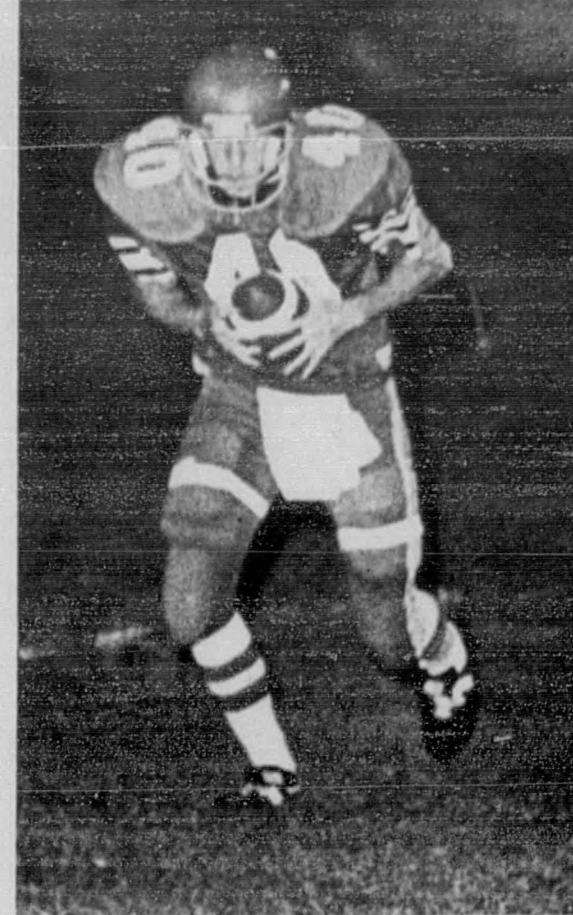

Brantley moved to one first down on its next carry, but bogged down and was forced to punt. The punt never got off, however, as a bad snap got away from the punter and Dozier took over on the Bulldog 18-yard line. The Tigers moved to the 15 on a short run and then scored an apparent touchdown, only to have it nullified by a 15-yard penalty. Dozier seemed unconcerned over the flag, however, and scored on the next play when Robert Coleman raced in on a 30-yard jaunt. The extra point failed, but with 4:04 left in the first quarter, Dozier owned a surprising lead. The Bulldogs weren't about to quit, however, and wasted no time getting back in the hunt as John Salter took the ensuing kick and returned it 82 yards for a touchdown. Jimmy Tisdale's p.a.t. was perfect, pulling Brantley within 13-7 with 3:52 still left in the action-packed first stanza.

Dozier moved down the field on its next possession and had a first down on the Brantley 20-yard line; but the Dog defense was now wide awake, and stopped the drive when Mark Hill intercepted an Alvin Daniels pass and returned it to the 32. The Bulldogs had to punt, but got the ball right back when Dozier had a bad snap on a punt attempt on their 40-yard line. Brantley struck quickly following the turnover, as Tony Chandler lofted a 40-yard scoring pass to Mark Hill to tie the score at 13-13. The p.a.t. sailed wide, but Brantley had caught the Tigers with 8:15 left in the half.

Brantley took advantage of a short punt to threaten late in the half, only to stop themselves on a fumble! The Bulldogs, using a balanced offensive attack, drove to the 1-yard line, but fumbled and came away empty-handed as the half ended with the score tied at 13-13.

Dozier received the second half kick and promptly marched 68 yards in 11 plays to regain the lead. The drive came entirely on the ground and was climaxed Bulldog cheerleaders had plenty to cheer about as Brantley rallied to tie the score at 20-20.

After taking the kickoff and not being able to move the ball, New Brockton punted to the Goshen Eagles, and the punt was returned 60 yards by Goshen's Derek Freeman for the first touchdown of the game. Scoring this early in the game always has its effects, but it failed to dampen the Gamecocks' spirit.

New Brockton came back in the air with a pass that was picked off by Goshen's Sankey who returned the pass for a 26-yard gain. Again failing to move the ball, Goshen quick-kicked to Brockton, where the ball was taken by Ricky Sipper who ran it back for a 10-yard gain. The Gamecocks couldn't muster any momentum and had to punt to Goshen's Freeman, who gained 15 yards on the run back, but this was offset by a clipping penalty.

Then the Eagles started to fly. On first down the give went to Freeman for a 4-yard gain. Then Lawrence Martin went to work for 3 first downs and 38 yards rushing. Then qb Eddie Sankey went to his favorite receiver, Steve Sanders, as a second-down pass clicked for a nine-yard gain, and another first down to set up the touchdown. After a wild scramble and almost being down behind the line, Sanky threw for 18 yards to Sanders on the 1-yard line, where he was hurried into the end zone by a New Brockton defender in an attempt to put him out of bounds.

After taking the kickoff from Goshen, the Gamecocks carried the ball for a series of four first downs, to the

GOSHEN STUNS BROCKTON 14-0

STORY: RONNY SHIVER BY:

Well, it just didn't seem to be our week for football victories in Coffee County. All the county schools fell upon defeat as we ended the third week of this 1981 season.

After taking the kickoff and not being able to move the ball, New Brockton punted to the Goshen Eagles, and the punt was returned 60 yards by Goshen's Derek Freeman for the first touchdown of the game. Scoring this early in the game always has its effects, but it failed to dampen the Gamecocks' spirit.

New Brockton came back in the air with a pass that was picked off by Goshen's Sankey who returned the pass for a 26-yard gain. Again failing to move the ball, Goshen quick-kicked to Brockton, where the ball was taken by Ricky Sipper who ran it back for a 10-yard gain. After taking the kickoff from Goshen, the Gamecocks carried the ball for a series of four first downs, to the Eagles' 18, where a last second 28-yard field-goal attempt failed to put points on the board, and the half ended with the score - Goshen 14 - New Brockton - 0.

After an excellent half-time show by both marching bands, the teams came back on the field for a hard-fought but unyielding second half.

Taking the kickoff from Brockton, which was run back for 11 yards, running backs Martin and Sanders took over to march 89 yards downfield, including a long pass for a 68-yard gain on one play. But three five-yard penalties brought the Eagles up short and on fourth down, the Eagles went for a 35-yard field-goal, which attempt failed to yield any more points for the Goshen Eagles.

New Brockton took over on their own 25-yard line, and after a series of punt exchanges, with neither team being able to move the ball, the third quarter slipped away.

For most of the fourth quarter, not much happened until Goshen intercepted a Brockton pass; however, again the Eagles failed to muster any momentum.

After a series of downs, it seemed the game would simply drag on until time ran out, but Goshen failed to run

The Kinston Bulldogs saw their record on 299 season drop to 1 win against 2 losses this past Friday night by the score of 28-0 as they visited Ariton for a 1A football clash. This game was marred by a total of 10 turnovers, and dominated by the strong Ariton defense.

The Ariton Purple Cats wasted little time in getting points on the board as they started a drive from their own 26-yard line. Steve Bell carried for 8 yards on the first play from scrimmage, and on the second play, Leo Jolly broke outside on a sweep to the right side and raced 66 yards into the endzone. A bad snap led to a missed extra point, which made the score Ariton 6 - Kinston 0, with 10:47 remaining in the first quarter.

The two teams committed turnovers on their next 5 possessions. Charles McLaughlin felt on a Kinston fumble on the Bulldog 7-yard line, but two plays later, Chris Weeks grabbed a Cat fumble out of the air on his 5-yard line. Two plays later, Larry Hatway fumbled on the 13 and Jim Zinsmeister fell on the loose ball. Kinston recovered a Charles McLaughlin fumble on the next play giving Kinston a first down on the 15. cepted a Darren Smith pass on the Bulldog 36-yard line. Leo Jolly went the last 11 yards of this drive on a sweep to the left side. Jeff Downing passed to Jeff Portwood for the 2 points, making the score 14-0, with 3:19 to play in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs took the kickoff and tried three plays, but had to punt. On the next play, Travis Holley intercepted a Jeff Downing pass and returned 25 yards to the Ariton 34-yard line, only to fumble the ball away on the next play. Jolly then fumbled back to Kinston with Tim Free falling on the loose ball. Another Ariton fumble resulted in a Kinston recovery by Michael Bowers on the Kinston 41.

Neither offense could mount a drive on their next possession, and after an exchange of punts, Kinston had the ball on their own 17-yard line.

Darren Smith completed a beautiful 14-yard pass play to Shane Smith for a first down on the 36. However, Barry Skinner recovered a Darren Smith fumble on the next play to give Ariton excellent field position on the 29-yard line. Charles McLaughlin carried up the middle for five yards and a touchdown on the fourth play of this possession. Chris Stevens kicked the extra point making the score 21-0 with only 2:41 to play in the first half. Neither team threatened again before the half.

The second half opened with Kinston again being held on 3 plays and forced to punt. Ariton took the ball on their own 34-yard line and drove to a touchdown. Leo Jolly went on a sweep to the left side for the last five yards and the score. Ariton overcame 4 penalties for a total of 50 yards on this drive. Chris Stevens kicked the last points of the night, and with 1:55 remaining in the third quarter, Ariton led the Bulldogs 28-0.

The next four possessions ended in punts as the game clock wound down, and both teams got some valuable playing time for their younger players.

Leo Jolly was the game's leading rusher with 155 yards on 12 carries. Jeff Downing gained 57 on 7 totes and Charles McLaughlin made 54 on 8 tries. Larry Hatway carried the ball 12 times for the Bulldogs and gained 47 yards while Tim Wilson got 22 yards on 5 tries.
